Perjury On The Increase.

Parkersburg, W. Va., June 17.—In the United States court, yesterday afternoon, after the grand jury had been impaneled, the venerable Judge Jackson, made some striking statements in his charge to the jury, concerning the crime of perjury, which he declared he has come to observe in his long experience in judicial affairs, is rapidly on the increase.

After caution to the grand jury to use every means at hand to uphold the law, Judge Jackson pointed out that dismissal of a charge, because of the apparent insignificance of the offense only served to break down the barriers of the law and encourage lawlessness.

Regarding perjury he said: "I want to say to you gentlemen, that the welfare of any community depends upon our laws and upon the insistence that they be held inviolate. And to uphold the law there must be justice. And yet how often is justice obstructed by false oath and testimony."

"The life of a citizen, the possession of your property, often depends upon truth of sworn testimony. And when a man deliberately raises his hand to God Almighty in solemn oath and swears an untruth he commits a crime against his fellowmen. I am sorry to say that during my long judicial experience the crime of perjury has been on the increase."

"Everything must be founded upon the truth. Without truth you are without principle; without principle you are nothing."

HEALTHY MOTHERS.
Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symptoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Fische's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother should be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest to the rough-tackled consumptive. New trial bottles, 25¢; large size, 75¢. At all druggists. Louisa Drug Co.

The height is indicated by the point of the stick held by Mr. Kehoe. Big Sale of Lands.

Reliable information states that John H. Durand and L. M. Lawson representing Pennsylvania capitalists, have closed a deal with Leslie county people for 32,000 acres of coal and timber lands in Knott, Pike and Leslie counties and as soon as the papers are all signed will begin active operations. Three mines will be opened in different parts of the territory and two mills will be erected, one a saw mill and stone mill and other a planing mill. The lands are located along the route of the proposed railroad through that section and are said to be among the richest of mineral and timber lands in Eastern Kentucky. The price paid is said to have been $12 an acre. The lands have been much sought after by investors, and when the Chesapeake and Ohio began the erection of the road to Paintsville the Pennsylvania people went after the property in earnest. When the coal mines contemplated are open a territory which is conceded to be the richest in the State will be opened. Experts say the supply of coal and bituminous coal in that section is inexhaustible and that within a few weeks a number of opinions now held by Eastern people will be closed.—Courier Journal.

Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Ten Years of Suffering
"I wish to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mrs. Mattie Burge of Martinsville, Va. "I suffered from chronic diarrhoea for ten years and during that time tried various medicines without obtaining any permanent relief. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus, and I procured a bottle of this remedy. Only two doses were required to give her entire relief. I then decided to try the medicine myself, and did not use all of one bottle before I was well and I have never since been troubled with that wonderful medicine. This remedy is for sale by A. M. Hughes."

Weak Hearts

Are caused by indigestion. If you are a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, the stomach expands—swells and puffs up against the heart. This crowds the heart and shortens the breath. Rapid heart beats and heart disease is the final result. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat, takes the strain off the heart, cures indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Sold by Louisa Drug Co.

It is said a quiet campaign is under way to secure the democratic vice Presidential nomination for Marshal Field, of Chicago. John R. McLean is also mentioned.

Treat Your Kidneys for Rheumatism. When you are suffering from rheumatism, the kidneys must be attended to at once so that they will eliminate the uric acid from the blood. Foley's Kidney Cure is the most effective remedy for this purpose. R. T. Hopkins, of Potosi, Mo., says, "After unsuccessfully doctoring three years for rheumatism with the best doctors, I tried Foley's Kidney Cure and it cured me. I cannot speak too highly of this great medicine." Sold by Louisa Drug Co.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This remedy is certain to be needed in almost every home before the summer is over. A CONTINUOUS STRAIN
Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly term "a continuous strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and discolors them, both mentally and physically, affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and despondency. They cannot, as a rule, get rid of this "continuous strain," but they can remedy its health-destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being, and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continuous strain." Trial bottle of August Flower, 25¢; regular size, 75¢. At all druggists. Louisa Drug Co.

Resolutions of Respect.

Lawrence Circuit Court, June 14, 1904.

Judge S. G. Kinner called a meeting of the Bar for the purpose of adopting resolutions of respect to our deceased brother and member Alexander Lackey.

Judge S. G. Kinner was elected Chairman and W. D. O'Neal Jr. was elected Secretary. The following were appointed a committee on resolutions: R. T. Burns, A. O. Carter, A. J. Garred, G. W. Skaggs and H. C. Sullivan, who reported as follows:

We, the undersigned Committee, having been appointed by the Bar Meeting of June 13, 1904, to draft resolutions on the death of our Brother Lawyer, Alexander Lackey. Therefore, be it resolved that we recognize in his sad death not only a great sorrow to this Bar, but the loss of one who has kept us united as a Bar more than any other member thereof.

He studied law under R. T. Burns, one of the oldest members of the Bar, and by his studious habits attained distinction not only at this Bar, but was recognized by the profession at large throughout the State of Kentucky for his ability as a lawyer, and for his courtesy and genial treatment of his brother lawyers.

His death is deeply deplored by all who knew him, and especially by the county officers and members of the Bar, as he was ever ready and willing to lend a helping hand to one and all. He was a conscientious lawyer, and a good citizen and was always ready to use his power to advance the interests of his county, and his influence was ever used to the good and prosperity of the community.

As a husband and father he was kind, considerate, indulgent, and affectionate. He has gone to his reward beyond the grave, and we hereby tender our heartfelt sympathy to his bereaved widow and children.

Resolved, that these resolutions be published in the Big Sandy News and Ashland Independent, and a copy furnished the family of our deceased Brother. Resolved, that these resolutions be spread at large upon the order book of this Court as part of the days proceedings.

R. T. Burns, A. O. Carter, A. J. Garred, G. W. Skaggs, H. C. Sullivan, Com.

A Time of Sorrow.

On last Friday morning as the June sunshine was casting its vivifying rays through the curtained windows of Jack Compton's home on Big Blaine, at Huletts, Ky., he was far away in Virginia with no over hand to minister nor look of awe to silence, giving up in early manhood the thing called life. He was a fireman on the N. & W. R. R. and in some unaccountable way fell from his engine, crushing his skull.

His remains were accompanied home by a number of young men, belonging to a railroad organization of which he was a member, and Sunday at 10 o'clock funeral services were held by Bro. U. Dean, and his body laid beside that of his mother in the family burying grounds.

Jack was a son and brother and neighbor in the noblest sense; therefore, who shall measure the loss, or who attempt to fathom the depth of sadness and emptiness that lingers an unbidden guest in that stricken home. The fragrance of his life, the memory of his ideal manhood, will abide with us and help ennoble our fleeting days. Jack was well and favorably known among us. Those who knew him best realize how consistent was his life, and how unwavering his fight against wrong. He stood on no mountain height, he was simply a toiler with the rest of us, striving to fulfill his legitimate relationship with his fellow. Today in the home mute with grief, sits his beloved parents, brothers and sisters, bereft of all joy, wondering why the blest life should be thus so ruthlessly broken.

And now with the sorrow and gloom which has never been divorced from death, let us realize that moral uplift which shall aid us marvelously in living better lives. The solemnity and bitter anguish of these bereavements begin unconsciously to yield their impalpable influences for good. Memory, with gentle touch, brings balm to our wounded hearts. It keeps before us the image of our vanished friends, and helps us treasure their virtues which assisted in making us worthy of their friendship. In sorrow we feel there dwells an element of the highest nobility, which closes the heart against all that is not good and true.

Yes, our dear friend is gone. We laid yesterday beneath the flowers and grasses his dismantled clay; we gave them sepulcher amid Nature's magnificence, where dust shall be resolved to dust again. Mournfully, yet hopefully, we bid both friend and stranger farewell, looking beyond death's desolation to the imperishable, prophetic in nature and promised in divine love, where human sorrow shall find consolation and human yearning endless fulfillment. Let us pause amid earth's sobbing voices and listen to heavenly symphony, echoing wherever Death has visited heart and home, saying, "I am the Resurrection and the Life."

Of Catarrhal Dyspepsia Cured.

LEONARD F. VERDERY, Real Estate and Renting Agent, of Augusta, Ga., writes:

"With many others I want to add my testimonial to the wonderful good Peruna has done me. I have been a great sufferer from catarrhal dyspepsia. I tried many physicians, visited a good many Springs, but I believe Peruna has done more for me than all of the above put together. I feel like a new person. I have taken the Peruna and Manalin together and always expect to have a bottle in my home."—LEONARD F. VERDERY.

Congressman B. B. Duviner, from Wheeling, West Virginia, in a letter written from Washington, D. C., says: "I join with my colleagues in the House of Representatives in recommending your excellent remedy, Peruna, as a good tonic, and also an effective cure for catarrh."

Catarrh assumes different phases in different seasons of the year. In the summer the stomach and bowels suffer the most often as the seat of the trouble. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.
